TONIGHT

The AHL affiliate of the Calgary Flames meets up with the AHL affiliate of the Columbus Blue Jackets for just the third time since 2005-06, and first time since November 11, 2006 when the Heat were then known as the Omaha Ak-Sar-Ben Knights and the Jackets affiliate was located in Syracuse. Since 2005, the Flames affiliate has beaten the Jackets' affiliate twice, a 2-0 shutout in October 2006 and a 4-2 win in November.

LAST TIME VS. CLEVELAND

The last time the Flames AHL affiliate took on Cleveland, they were known as the Adirondack Flames, while the Monsters were known as, the Lake Erie Monsters and hosted the Colorado Avalanche prospects. That game, back on April 12, 2015, beat Adirondack 4-1 in Glens Falls, NY. Adirondack did win both games in Cleveland that year and split the season series 2-2.

HEY NEW GUY

Stockton completed their second ever AHL trade, acquiring C Colin Smith on a Valentine's Day trade that sent Joseph Cramarossa to Wilkes-Barre/Scranton. Smith had 5 goals and 18 points for the Pens before the trade, and has played 316 AHL games with Lake Erie, San Antonio, Toronto, WBS and now Stockton. While he was held pointless in his first game, Smith recorded his first point with the Heat, an assist, and added a second to record his fourth multi-point game of the season, his first with Stockton, and first since December 10 in a game at Hershey.

COMEBACK KIDS

After going all season without a come-from-behind victory, the Heat have now won two of their last four games with a comeback effort in third periods. Against Grand Rapids on Feb 10, the Heat scored a late power-play marker and won the game in the shootout while last Friday, the Heat needed three goals in the third to force OT, where they'd win it. When trailing after two periods, Stockton is now 2-9-1-2 this season.

MASE ON THE CASE

Mason McDonald has come in from Kansas City and has rose to the occasion for the Heat, stopping 50 of 55 shots in his first two AHL games of the season, earning his first AHL win on Friday and following that up with his second the next night. In his AHL career, McDonald is now 2-0-0-1 and posted a 2.41 goals-against-average and 0.909 save-percentage. He's played in 53 ECHL games in Adirondack and Kansas City, posting a 23-21-6 record.

OLYMPIC CHECK UP

Cody Goloubeuf and Team Canada beat Switzerland 5-1 to open the 2018 games with Goloubeuf but fell on Friday in a shootout to the Czech Republic. Team Canada faces Korea on Sunday at 4:10 AM.

Coaching Staff

Head Coach Ryan Huska

Born: July 2, 1975 (42) - Cranbrook, BC, Canada

Huska, a native of Cranbrook, British Columbia, is coming off his third season as a professional hockey coach after spending his previous 12 seasons with the Kelowna Rockets, serving five seasons as an assistant coach and seven seasons as their head coach. He played his junior hockey with the Kamloops Blazers before being drafted by the Chicago Blackhawks in the third round (76th overall) in the 1993 NHL Draft. He played over 300 professional games in the AHL and the IHL with Indianapolis, Lowell and Springfield. Huska is one of the most decorated junior hockey men in Canada with four Memorial Cup championship rings to his name, three times as a player with the Kamloops Blazers (1992, 1994 and 1995) and once as an assistant coach with the Kelowna Rockets (2004). His three cups won as a player is tied for most all-time with former Kamloops teammates Darcy Tucker and Tyson Nash along with Robert Savard (Cornwall). He has been to the Memorial Cup an additional three times, in 2003 and 2005 as an assistant coach with the Rockets and won the WHL Championship but lost in the Memorial Cup finals in 2009 as the head coach. Internationally, he has captured a bronze and a silver medal as an assistant coach with Team Canada at the World Junior Hockey Championships. In his first season with the Adirondack Flames, Huska's team went 35-33-8, finishing fourth in the North Division and 12th in the Western Conference. Huska oversaw 17 players play in the NHL and the AHL during his first season at the helm of an American Hockey League team and followed that up with another 16 players during his second season including four NHL debutants. After the formation of the AHL's Pacific Division was announced, Huska transitioned from New York to California to start his second pro season with the Stockton Heat. His team would go all the way to the final week of the season before just narrowly missing the playoffs, going 32-32-4 in the inaugural season of Heat hockey. Huska oversaw the growth and eventual call-ups of 15 players including five players who made their NHL debuts during the 2015-16 season. In 2016-17 Coach Huska surpassed a number of milestones, including his 700th game as a coach, which happened on March 8 (a win), his 200th game behind an AHL bench which occurred on March 17 (a win), his 100th AHL win on April 8 vs. San Jose, and led the Heat to their first postseason
